Wants to Subscribe Five Hundred and One Thousand Dollars to the Atlantic, Mississippi and Atlantic Railroad—Subscriptions to Be Opened in a Few Days. Etc., Etc.

Our project was never received by Atlanta's such anti-slavery and enthusiasm as told. The Georgia Merchants' bank said, "Cash a hundred dollars to the Hawkinsville road, and I am satisfied it was a good investment." I then called on the bank and they gave me a road. I have talked with several anti-slavery men to the Hawkinsville road, and find that they are all willing to give ten dollars to the road where they subscribed one to that, and will give the city of Atlanta a share of trade to the city and be a profitable one, the road which connects the Mississippi and the Atlantic. In Atlanta in control, will be a city of 200,000, and the city will be a show of the road alone would add fire to the city and to our population. The city of Atlanta is the new road will be a city of 200,000, and the city will be a show of the road alone would add fire to the city and to our population. ## THE CONSTITUTION.

THROUGH THE CITY.

Several Paragraphs Caught on the Fly by the Constitution Reporters.

Two Courts—Beginning tomorrow morning, Judge Marshall J. Clarke and R. H. Clarke presiding. There is a great deal of business yet to dispose of.

TO NIGHT AT TRINITY.—The subject of Rev. Dr. Lee's discourse tonight will be: "The duty of the hour with reference to prohibition in Atlanta." An appeal to reason and the facts. The doctor will deal with the subject with gloves off.

THE CONCERT POSTPONED.—The concert projected for the aid of the Charleston orphans, coming in contact with a concert given for another purpose, has been postponed to a date to be announced later. Tickets are on sale in the meantime.

THE CATHOLIC FAIR.—Arrangements are being made for the Catholic fair, to be held under the supervision of the Sisters of Mercy. Mr. Belcher has donated a town lot in Mt. Airy. Many other donations are expected. The fair will be held during the last week in November and it promises to be a brilliant success.

HAS MOVED TO ATLANTA.—The Rev. Dr. McCull, the new pastor of the Third Baptist church, has moved his family to the city from Dalton, their old home. Since assuming charge of the Third church Dr. McCull has made friends rapidly and his entire congregation is highly delighted with him. Dr. McCull is a deep thinker and a fine orator.

UNITED STATES COURT.—The following cases were disposed of in the United States court yesterday: James Buffington, illicit distilling, verdict not guilty; C. W. B. Howell, illicit distilling, verdict not guilty; John Bragg, illicit distilling, sentence three months in Colquhoun jail, $100 fine; William Moore, illicit distilling, verdict not guilty.

THE LADIES FAIR.—The sisters of the convent of the Immaculate Conception will hold a fair during the fall, which is designed to be the most brilliant yet set before the public. Many donations have been given, and contributions, one being a corner lot, which is to be raffled off. The sisters respectfully ask the public to take an interest in their enterprise.

PERMANENT RECEIVER APPOINTED.—Yesterday Judge Marshall J. Clarke heard in chambers the application for the appointment of a permanent receiver for the Capital City bakery. Mr. Louis Gholston was appointed, and will conduct the business. The gentlemen who own the business say they can easily pay out the application for a receiver made by Mr. Asen Haas, who says they owe him $10,000, a portion of which is now due and unpaid.

A STREET THAT NEEDS REPAIRS.—Forsyth street, between Marietta and the railroad crossing, is in a bad fix. Gullies and holes abound and large rocks are scattered all along. The grade is rather steep from the railroad up to Marietta street, and this makes matters worse. No business thoroughfare in the city is in such a bad condition. The wear and tear suffered by horses, mules and drays in this locality amounts to a considerable item, and it is a needless waste, because it could be saved by putting the street in order.

A BROKEN LEG.—Frank Logan, a young negro, broke his leg while he was carrying yesterday afternoon. Logan was on Thompson street, near Brotherton, when some chickens escaped from a peddler's wagon. The peddler asked Logan to assist him in capturing the chickens, and while chasing one of them he fell. In the fall his leg was broken. The fracture proved to be not at all serious. Logan was taken to the home of Humphreys street, where surgical services were rendered.

A BARE THEATRE.—The large congregation at the First Methodist church last Sunday enjoyed a rare treat in the superb music. The offering was particularly admired, and many were filled with tears as the familiar old hymns of Ages were sung to the beautiful arrangement of Professor Salter. The grand organ at this church is never-failing source of delight to the lovers of music, and under the leadership of the organist, Professor Salter, makes Atlanta proud that we have such an instrument in our city.

THE INAUGURATION.—Yesterday invitations were sent to the cadets at the state university, Asheville, at Congress, at Millersburg, at Forsyth, at Meigs, at the military academy, at Naval military academy, Edgewood, and to others, to be present and take part in the military display attending General John B. Gordon's inauguration as governor. The Georgia City Guard has tendered the use of its armory to the Governor's Horse Guard, and hereafter meetings of all committees will take place in the armory. The day of the inauguration are progressing rapidly and satisfactorily.

LOCOMOTIVE ENGINEERS.—The international convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers convenes in New York this afternoon. There will be three representatives from the city. They are Mr. M. Thomas Shivers, of Atlanta, representing division 297; Mr. B. F. Cole, of Macon, representing division 298; and Mr. C. F. Barnwell, of Savannah, representing division 299. Mr. Shivers left last night by the Western and Atlantic railroad for New York, and in his hands the brotherhood of the Atlanta division will be safe. This is the second time Mr. Shivers has been sent to the international convention, and he has never been conferred upon by any other member of the association.

A LOT OF B. B. B.'S.—Judge Marshall J. Clarke was yesterday engaged hearing the case of the Burdock Blood Bitters company against the Botanic Blood Bitters company. The plaintiff claims that the defendant is using their trade mark. The defendant claims that the plaintiff is using their trade mark. The evidence is voluminous, and not being able to conclude the case, Judge Clarke has several bottles of different kinds of B. B. B. stored away, which was brought in as evidence.

THEY GOT MANY FISHER.—Hon. Harry McClell, chairman of the board of fire marshals, Mr. James Hunter, Hon. Chas. Collier, W. H. Hunter, chief of the fire department, Foreman Haynes, of No. 1 Foreman, Haynes, of No. 2, and Foreman Emel of the hook and ladder, and a half dozen of the firemen went fishing yesterday and came back with 175 pounds of fish. They did not fish with hooks, neither did they use nets, but they fished with a fire hose. Several days ago Colonel J. Ben Wilcox, West end, expressed a desire to have his fire hose pond drained, so that he could make some repairs, and as one time thought he would have the fish he wanted. Yesterday the chairman of the board wanted the fire hose pond drained, and with the chief, went out to the pond. The water was blown off and then the fishermen gathered up 175 pounds. Last night scales were two scales deep on the hook and ladder float.

OVERLOOKED BY GAR.—George Brant, a colored man, was overlooked by Gar yesterday afternoon, when he was in the city. When found was in an insoluble condition. Brant was employed by a man named Foster, who was working at it he made him larger. The man was continued to labor until he was discovered by a colored woman passing along the street. The woman gave the alarm, and those who responded Brant was released. He was quickly as pure air struck his legs, and he was able to walk. He was extremely slow, and his restoration was thought he could not recover. He had been discovered fifteen minutes later he would have probably have died.

A MOUNTAIN MURDER.

A UNITED STATES WITNESS GETS THE DROPPING A PERSECUTOR.

The Killing of John Parker, Near Rabun Gap Junction by Sisk. Full Details of the Story From a Reliable Source—How the Mountain People Look Upon an Informer.

The killing of John Weston Parker by John Sisk, Friday night, near Rabun Gap Junction, has caused a considerable stir among the revenue officers.

From a gentleman connected with the service, this Constitution is enabled this morning to give the full particulars.

Today one week ago, Deputy Marshals Ware and Cope made a raid, and four miles from Rabun Gap Junction succeeded in destroying a large still, said to be the property of William Nunnally, a well known citizen of that county. There was no one at the still when it was seized. The warrant against Nunnally was turned over to Deputy Marshal Grant, and Friday he went to a place near Rabun Gap and arrested Nunnally. John Sisk was subpoenaed as a witness. Some how the report got circulated around that Sisk had informed on Nunnally, and several parties THREATENED TO WHIP HIM. It was arranged that the officer should carry Nunnally to Gainesville, to be tried before Commissioner Gaston, and that Sisk should go to Gainesville yesterday and testify against him.

Sisk went to the home of his grandmother, Anne Sisk, near Mount Airy, where he intended to spend the night. He had retired and was in dreamland when a loud knock was heard at the door, and Mrs. Smith arose from her bed and went to the door.

"Who is there?" she asked. "Me," replied some one from the outside. "Who is me?" asked the old lady. "John Parker," was the reply, "and I want to see John Sisk." "He is not here." "But I know he is. Let me come in. I want to talk to him." "You can't come in." "Yes, I will, and if you don't open the door I will break it down."

HE IS NOT DEAD. Mrs. Smith declined to open the door, and Parker broke it open, and as he stepped inside two sharp reports of a gun rang out and Parker fell. As he fell to the floor he said: "Here, Bill Hardy, I never got him. He got me first. Take my gun and kill him." The men who were with Parker did not dare to take part, but retreated. They were William Parker, William Hardy and Jack Payton, all relatives. Sisk did not attempt to escape, but remained until yesterday, when he was arrested and carried to Clarksville. He refused to be interviewed, and only said that he acted in self-defense.

Sisk, it is understood, has been giving the officers information that led to the seizure of illicit distilleries and the arrest of parties. CLOSELY CONNECTED TO PARKER. It is said that Parker was a desperate man, and is reported to have been killed in Arkansas and released a brother. It is further said that he has killed two men, and at the time of his death, was living with a woman of disreputable character.

Many threats had been made against Sisk. Thursday he was told that if he showed him self in Mount Airy after dark he would be hanged. The people in the mountains have no use for an informer. Only a short time ago a man named Dyer was killed while going to his home from mill. The matter will be thoroughly investigated.

THE ST. LUKE'S PULPIT.—The Rev. Dr. W. Anderson, rector of St. Stephen's church, Millidgeville, reached Atlanta yesterday and will occupy the pulpit at St. Luke's church this morning. Dr. Anderson is a speaker.

The snore which Wood's Barnyard has had in freeing childhood from afflictions caused by imure blood, is really remarkable. Many a mother has reason to be thankful for it.

A Reporter's Scoop. "Well, I declare, Mr. Jones, you have a jam here, certain. I have been waiting a half hour to be waited upon, and still haven't made my selection," said a lady to Mr. Larry Jones, of James & McConnell, the dry goods novelty man, yesterday.

"Sorry, but our stock is so select that every one just what she wants, and consequently we are having a lot of waiting. Mr. Jones, with a pleasant smile.

Both the lady and Mr. Jones spoke truthfully. About a year ago McConnell & Jones opened their store. Their stock filled a vacancy long felt in the city. In a very short time the ladies ascertained that the new firm was making a big effort to please, and in less than a month the store was the ladies' favorite. Today, when they went to buy a pair of hats to a pair of the finest silk in the world, they got to McConnell & Jones and buying the best purchases, and always sends select bargains to his Atlanta house.

Elegant Decorating. The finest job of paper decorating ever done in Greenville, S. C., or even in Atlanta, has just been completed for Mr. J. C. Cox, by the celebrated decorator M. M. Mauck, of this city. Three rooms and a hall and over 800 ft. of paper, a growing demand for fine work and Mr. Mauck is doing a splendid business which he justly deserves.

Bishop, E. E. Williams, bugler, J. E. Mauck, first corporal, J. C. Newman, second corporal, R. B. Blackman, third corporal, T. B. Farris, fourth corporal.

Dr. W. R. Westmoreland is the surgeon of the corps. Rev. N. K. Smith is the chaplain. By appointment of Captain Jones, the non-commissioned officers, executive of Captain Jones, nominated at a recent meeting, are George E. Farris, first lieutenant; Frank L. Harsanyi, junior first lieutenant; W. C. Phelps, second lieutenant.

And fifty uniforms have been ordered. It is expected that they will be received in time to allow the corps to appear upon the occasion of the inauguration of General John B. Gordon as governor.

BLUE GRASS PRINCE

AND THE GOOD WORK HE IS DOING.

Joseph of Major Campbell Brown, of Maury County

Tennessee, who has made the Maury County the most successful Jersey breeder in the South.

It is the fashion to say of people who have passed most of their days in the rural districts that they "have been little of the world."

It is a never applied to city folk, yet in the meaning it is most of them far better than it does the denizens of the agricultural districts. It is a world of art and a world of nature. It is the fact of most mortals to be confined to a narrow, incomplete view of life is the inevitable result. The man who lives in the depths of the wilderness, shut out from the panorama of the commercial and industrial enterprise is not more ignorant of the essentials of that complex thing we call "life" than his city cousin, whose existence is a mechanical routine of an inevitable series of daily toil. It is in any difference in the degree of intelligence, breadth of view, and extent of physical and mental development of these two types it is in favor of the countryman.

But neither is the model man, and if either has a right spirit and an active mind he rejoices in the opportunity to pass now and then beyond the barriers of his appearance and walk in this world to learn what lies in other great divisions and how matters are going there. The annual or semi-annual travelling up which the farmer gets when he comes to town is a spiritual tonic without which he would languish in barren stagnation. The breath of the mountain, the perfume of the clovered field, the rustling of the corn, the hum of the bees, the humming of the bees, the hum of the bees, the

humming of the bees, the hum of the bees, the

humming of the bees, the hum of the bees, the

humming of the bees, the hum of the bees, the

humming of the bees, the hum of the bees, the

humming of the bees, the hum of the bees, the

humming of the bees, the hum of the bees, the

humming of the bees, the hum of the bees, the

humming of the bees, the hum of the bees, the

humming of the bees, the hum of the bees, the

humming of the bees, the hum of the bees, the

humming of the bees, the hum of the bees, the out pedigree. He bought her at a county fair in 1855. At his next sale she was bought by a Missus in farmer for $175, but as he failed to get the horse at the sale, he was intended to match with Flash, and was therefore dissatisfied with his purchase, Major Brown, with his characteristic generosity, insisted on taking the mare back, and she was thrown on his hands. He offered her for sale again at $175, and a Georgia gentleman bought her, but on being informed by Major Brown that she was a little skittish he declined to take her. As nobody seemed to want the mare, the trainer of the stables began to exercise her on the track. She soon showed a 2-20 pace, and next season she started on the circuit, and won to many races that Major Brown, before the season wadover, sold her for $4,000 cash. There was no judgment and less luck in the big "spec" he had made on Brown's Hal. His sire, Tom Hal, is one of the best stallions of Tennessee, and Major Brown wanted some of his blood. He saw a good horse in Brown Hal when little attention was paid to him at a county fair where he was beaten in a two-year-old competition. Soon afterwards Major Brown bought him for $700. Brown Hal is now only seven years old, and is a superb animal. He has already paid his present owner several thousand dollars, and is today the most promising pacer in existence. Last season he was started in four great races, and won them all with ease and in a good time, though he was never out of the lead. He has won a total of the wonderful time of 2:08 1/2, John Rockwell, his trainer, is one of the most experienced trainers in the country. He says he believes Brown Hal will bring the pacer record down to 2:05, or lower, next season. If he does he will be worth $50,000 at least. Rockwell says he has paced several times under thirty seconds and can go half a mile in a minute. Major Brown has been offered $100,000 for him but does not care to sell him at any price just now. He is worth from $10,000 to $50,000 a year in the stud now and his value is increasing. Tennessee has paid handsomely for him, though capable of a 2:20 gait and will be given a record next spring.

Major Brown has quite a business in Shetland and Welsh ponies for which he gets $150 each.

He also breeds Creole ponies and values them highly.

They can be made remarkably useful about a farm. He is crossbred the Welsh and Creole with expectations of a pony superior to either of the purebreds. There are about 250 horses of all kinds on the place, and this department of the farm alone would be enough to keep the owner's time well employed and his pocket well filled.

It is in Jersey breeding that this man has done

HIS BEST WORK

for himself and for his country. Of him, another

Tennessee Jersey breeder said to me recently:

"He is at the head of the profession, I would rather have his judgment on a Jersey cow than that of any man in America."

The record of Major Brown justifies this high praise, for on his farm the complete success of Jersey breeding has been achieved. It is with him a business from first to last, and it is as thoroughly a business as any other. The ordinary occupations of life, with a keen appreciation of those beauties of form and color which appeal to the admiration of everybody he still holds to the maxim that "the sole office of the Jersey cow is to produce the largest possible amount of rich, highly colored butter from a given amount of food."

As I passed a herd of Jerseys on the lawn in front of his house he pointed out the smallest, and to my unpractised eye the least attractive cow in the group. "There is a cow with a history."

When I asked what was remarkable about her he told me the little cow was Landover

Fancy, who in a year, under an official test, made the matchless record of 290 pounds and eight ounces of butter. She was bred at Ewell farm, but is now owned by Mr. W. J. Webster, of Columbia, Tennessee. There are now in the Ewell farm herd four cows with records of over eight hundred pounds of butter a week, nine with records of seventeen pounds and twenty-three with records of about thirty pounds. The total of these tests was about 380 pounds a week or an average of about seventeen pounds to the cow. It is in Jersey breeding that this man has done

HIS BEST WORK

for himself and for his country. Of him, another

COMMON SENSE FOR THE LADIES

52 WHITEHALL.

One of the hardest things to understand, and yet one of the easiest when known, is the best way for the public to become satisfied about the purchase of goods. Now, we have a simple statement to make, which we think will appeal to the common sense of every reader.

Last week we made a plain announcement of our

GRAND FALL OPENING OF FINE MILLINERY

And Fancy Goods. We stated that the opening would occur, naming the date, etc. We also took occasion to remark that never in the history of Atlanta would such startling low prices be known in our line. All this was very well, and, as usual, everybody came in to see our grand display, which was pronounced beautiful and artistic by all. But the public was made to open its eyes on our prices.
Instead of finding reasonable prices, our goods were actually away below the frost line. Of course, but one result could follow such a state of affairs. Everybody told her neighbor what she saw, and the story went about like a feather in a gale.

Since then we have been crowded from morning until night, and are still as busy as bees. New shipments of Millinery and Novelties have been daily arriving, and we have done the best business in the history of our trade.

READ OUR CLAIMS:

A VERY STRANGE TALE.

CULLIVER OUTDORE BY AN ENGLISH MISSIONARY.

Adventure in a Far-Off Land—Brother Chumley tells of a Mission Where the Plants Lay Eggs, the Women are Absolute Rulers.

From the Philadelphia News.

Rev. Howard Chumley, an English missionary, left this city for New York yesterday afternoon, intending to sail for home today on the steamship Euryma, after four years' absence. For about a week he had been living quietly in this city at a cheap boarding house, for he was sorely in need of cash. Several clergymen to whom he presented himself refused him assistance, but a philanthropic citizen, moved by his story, undertook to bring the cost of his transportation to Bristol, England, of which place he is a native.

He is about forty-two years old, exceptionally tall, of spare form, but very muscular. In conversation his voice is pleasant, his features animated and his eyes sparkling. Certainly the story he tells of his career in the past two years is most remarkable one, though it is so far from the truth that it is almost incredible. He is a native of England, and his story is a most interesting one, bearing out the old adage that "the truth is often stranger than fiction."

"I sailed from Liverpool for South America, April 22, 1882, in the steamer Elys, under the command of a missionary of the Women's Presbyterian Foreign Missionary Society. We reached Rio Janeiro May 25th, after a rough voyage, and after a short rest I entered on my work in Brazil. I did not meet much headway except among the poorer natives, but my success was sufficiently encouraging. During a year and a half I traversed the empire and with God's assistance made a small army of converts. I penetrated to Bolivia, and at last, going north on the Guaporé river, struck a densely wooded country. The climate is extremely hot all the year round. This is verily what he said:

"The minerals are mostly lead and a soft ore resembling iron, of which there is great abundance. The indigenous plants include one which is truly wonderful. It grows to a height of about eighteen inches; the stem is slender and the foliage variegated. It flowers in June, and the blossom is of a deep crimson, with six or seven petals, forming a flower about two inches in diameter. The blossom is succeeded by a yellow pod, which grows to the size of a walnut. This pod, when ripe, really is open about the middle of August, and a large moth, with red and yellow wings, emerges. This moth feeds on the plant in its speaking of, or eating of its variety. I left the text in the earth. These eggs are the seed of the plant, and begin sprouting in the spring. Here is a specimen of the plant and a half grown pod, inside of which you will see the insect."

"In September, 1884, I was stricken with intermittent fever. My two Brazilian attendants cared for me faithfully, but in a frenzy I left the tent and wandered into the forest. When I became conscious I was extremely weak, and found myself absolutely naked, lying in a heap of dead leaves in a sort of circle constructed of stout sticks. My body was thickly covered with a yellow ointment which had been rubbed over my head. I was in the same condition. Looking around to discover where I was, I found myself in the center of a village. The houses, or huts, were evidently of mud, stones and iron. In a few minutes, having been noticed, I was moving about, people began to gather around my cage. They examined me with great interest, and I had great interest in examining them. They were mostly women, tall, well formed and of a dark-brown color.

Keep Your Eye On The Gun.

We are going to fire by platoons, by company, by a regiment and by brigades. We'll have siege guns here, mortars yonder, and musketry all along the line. We don't propose to give the enemy even showing enough to throw out their picket lines.

season's battle—and don't you forget it.

D. H. DOUGHERTY & CO.

WE NOW BEGIN OUR

CANNONADING.

DRESS GOOD!—We have all the new combination French and English Suitings, in every conceivable design, choice novelties of the latest importation. We bought everything cheap and they are going rapidly.

MAGNIFICENT display of plain, striped, figured and brocade velvet novelties for combining and trimming silk and worsted goods. Our display of passementeries, head gimps, headings, etc., and all the French novelties in Fringes is surpassingly lovely. The ladies are raving over these goods.

BLACK CASHMERES.

We beat the world on these goods. Ask to see our 50 and 60c numbers, and stop fashionable new black dress of every variety.

Black Gros Grain Silks—an enormous stock; also, Black Duchess Satins, ranging in price from 75c to $3.50 per yard.

NIT UNDERWEAR!—Gents' Knit Underwear, Ladies' Knit Underwear, Children's Underwear. All away under the market price, and we don't palm off any Drummers' samples, either. Underwear at any price, and all lower than anybody.

LOOK OUT NOW FOR A BLIZZARD

It is time to get in snugly between nice, soft, warm blankets and cover up with comfort.
We can afford to blow very loud in this department, for no one on earth can touch us. We give our word and beat the whole union on these goods. Come and see for yourselves.

CASSIMERE AND JEANS!—In endless variety for men and boys. Great bargains, new goods and capitalizing prices.

SEVERAL TOGETHER!—Flannels, Ladies' Cloth, Repellants, Waterproofs, Sackings—which we knock the worst out of joint in low prices. Cotton Flannels at four or six for 50c a yard up. We can't nor won't be undersold.

Read all the Proclamations

You see about others selling goods at 60c, worth 75c, and a cloak worth $27 for $11, and all such nonsense. It is just as easy to say selling at HALF PRICE as anything else, and all the sensible people know this can't be done. People can't do business that way these hard times—much of it. We simply say that we are underselling any house in Atlanta. You don't have to take our word for anything.

Our Goods Tell the Whole Story in a Nutshell.

OUR HOSIERY DEPARTMENT is full to overflowing with tempting bargains and we can please everybody in styles and prices. We do an enormous trade in this line, and propose to clean out all competition. Come and see for yourself.

WHITE SHIRTS

The boom continues here, and we guarantee to sell a better shirt than any house in the city, and to sell more of them than any two houses in Atlanta. The cause of all this is our LOW PRICES AND GOOD SHIRTS. They range from 25c to $1.50, and we know they can't be touched by competition.

ANOTHER LOOM!—We are having on our Cloaks, New-Markets, Short Wraps, English Jackets, and Jersey Waists. Just stop your cars with your fingers, and don't listen to others cry about low prices. See ours and be happy.

TABLE LINENS AND TOWELS for the million. We have a regular sensation in these goods, and they are going like hot cakes with Goshen butter and maple syrup.

WE HAVE NEVER shown such an array of White Marseilles and Crochet Quilts as now.
They are lovely, beautiful, good, durable, and we can't find enough adjectives to describe them.

You read a lot of buncombe in other advertisements, but we don't deal in buncombe. We sell dry goods, and we sell 'em cheap! cheap! cheap! We don't sell anything at 50c on the dollar. No 75c silks at 42c. We say only what we mean, and that is that we sell a big pile of goods all the year around, and are content with a very short margin for our profit.
Our competitors must look upon us as a whole team, and two dogs under the wagon at that.

OUR SHOES are our brag stock. We clean out Christendom here, and are doing about three times as much in this line as any former season. We keep good goods and sell them cheap.

Now, put all of these things in your pipe and smoke them. They are only such things as you can afford to move over. Then come quietly to us, and we'll please you every time.
Yours in the faith,

D. H. DOUGHERTY & CO.

THE TERRIBLE WRECK

THE BRITISH COAST VISITED BY THE SEVEREST STORM OF Years—Hundreds of Lives Lost—Destruction of the Dead and Wounded as Salvage Pass-More About the Storm.

LONDON, October 17.—The latest reports show the effects of the recent storm on the south and west coasts were terrible. A Norwegian bark, four hundred off Tinopolis, Wales, and the entire crew, consisting of fifteen persons, perished. Ten bodies were washed ashore on Glamorgan coast.

Reports have been received from all parts of the kingdom, telling of the disastrous effect of the hurricane. The British ship Mallory was wrecked in Bristol channel, and twenty persons drowned. The ship is covered with wreckage. The bodies washed ashore had been stripped of valuables by the wreckers. The Norwegian bark Frederikstad, from Malmoe, N. B., for Swansea, was wrecked off Padstow, and nineteen persons drowned.
The bark Alliance was also wrecked off Padstow, and four lives lost. Another large bark was seen to be in distress, the crew being haddled together on deck. The vessel foundered this morning, and twenty persons were drowned.

SABINE PASS AND THE BAYOU.
The List of the Dead Revised—An Appeal for Aid.

GALETON, October 17.—The following appeal from Orange, Texas, gives the latest particulars regarding the disaster at Johnson's bayou and Sabine Pass. The steamer Emily P. returned this afternoon, bringing one hundred and sixty additional sufferers from Johnson's bayou, who are entirely destitute of everything necessary to sustain life. They were received on the wharf by the relief committee, who are doing all in their power to make them comfortable.

The way of providing them with clothing, food and beds. Most of them are women and children. The Emily P. still returns to the bayou immediately to bring back one hundred and fifty more persons who are waiting there, and who are now homeless, penniless and without shelter. We now have to take care of two hundred and ten persons from that section.
We can only know the heartrending condition of these people by seeing and conversing with them.

THE LIST OF DROWNED.
The corrected list of the drowned at Johnson's Bayou, as far as can be obtained this evening, is as follows: Whites—F. P. Gallion, wife and grandsons; the children of Sam-Brown; Mrs. E. Fauchard and four children; Joseph Kuke, wife and seven children; four of Frank Tamer's children; Mrs. S. Gallier and five children; Mrs. J. J. Berry and three children; Mrs. and William Ferguson and four children; Mrs. George Smith and four children; Mrs. Alfred Lambert and two children; Mr. Berry and daughter; Alphonso Degard; Adam Smith and one child. Colored—Henry Johnson, wife and three children; Mrs. Jack Lewis; Dick Hamphrey, wife and four children; James Lewis. Only a few of these bodies were recovered on the trip. We have two steamers, two schooners and about twenty-five small sailing and barge boats, all of which are being used to bring the dead from Sabine Pass and the Bayou.

THE MEN AT WORK.
The steamer Lumar left today with a new crew of relief men for Sabine Pass. The crew consists of men from the associated press to assist in the relief work. The men are to be given a full and complete outfit, on behalf of the destitute sufferers. As assistance is urgently needed and money, provisions, clothing and other necessities are in great demand, the contributions for the relief of the sufferers can be sent to J. Sanders, mayor of Orange.

THE REFUGEES COMING IN.
Refugees from the flooded district about Sabine Pass continue to arrive on every small craft that comes up the river. It is estimated by persons who have been over the scene of devastation at Sabine Pass, Johnson's bayou and Taylor's bayou that the death list will exceed 250 souls. Eighty-five corpses have been recovered and buried around Johnson's bayou, and 51 bodies that had been buried at Sabine, while 60 were sent colored persons are still missing at Sabine, while they are, of course, dead, as it would be impossible for any human being to survive thirty days in the swamps and lagoons without food or shelter. An examination of the country back of Sabine, and immediately in the vicinity of Beaumont, shows that the salt water came back from the coast fully forty miles through the swamp, and hundreds of thousands of acres are still submerged by the water.
The sea was running high, and the fact makes the search for the bodies vanishingly difficult. The carcasses of thousands of drowned cattle, hogs, horses, and are strewn everywhere, and clouds of gulls and buzzards are hovering over the desolated country for an area thirty square miles. Parties who returned today from Johnson's bayou district say six hundred have almost reached the conclusion that many of these missing were drowned and their bodies carried out to sea by the ceding waves.

cause of the schooner is unknown.
